PATENT MEDICINES.

MEDICATED INHALATION.
A NEW METHOD.
A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. CURTIS, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr. CURTIS'S HYGEANA, or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most wonderful cures of Asthma and Consumption in the City of New York and vicinity for a few months past, ever known to man.— It is producing an impression on Diseases of the Lungs never before witnessed by the medical profession. [See certificates in hands of Agents.]
The Inhaler is worn on the breast, under the linen, without the least inconvenience, the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid,—supplying the lungs constantly with a healing and agreeable vapor, passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs that cannot possibly be reached by any other medicine. Here is a case of
ASTHMA CURED.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 20th, 1853.
For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in a bed, getting what rest I could sitting in my chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr. Curtis's Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffering for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued it with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is,—TRY IT.
CONSUMPTION CURED.
NEW YORK, Dec. 27th, 1853.
I came to New York in the ship Telegraph; my native place is St. John, New Brunswick; when I reached this city, my health was very poor; had a very bad cough, raised a great deal of matter, which was frequently mixed with blood; had pain in my left side, and was very weak and emaciated. My friends and physician pronounced my case Consumption, and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily believe was the means of saving my life.— Soon after wearing the Inhaler, I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface, under the Inhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, I feel unwilling at present to dispense with it. JOHN WOOD.
Sold by BOYD & PAUL, No. 40 Cortlandt street; C. H. RING, corner of John street and Broadway, N. Y. Price $3 a package.
N. B.—Any person inclosing $3 to BOYD & PAUL, or CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, will receive a package containing a bottle of Hygean Vapor, one of Cherry Syrup, and an Inhaler, in a neat box, by express, free to any part of the United States; or four packages for $10. feb2-1yd&w

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.
These Pills being composed entirely of medicinal herbs are of a most harmless nature, while the extraordinary virtues they possess have rendered them universally popular in nearly every part of the world. The immense success they have met with throughout the States is most extraordinary, owing, it is presumed, to their wonderful efficacy in the cure of Bilious complaints and disorders of the Liver and Stomach. Persons who persevere in using them in accordance with the directions, seldom fail in being restored to health.
WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY,—RESTORATION TO HEALTH OF A GENTLEMAN, AGED 45, WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR.
Copy of a Letter from the Rev. Charles Smith, dated Norton, St. Philips, near Bath, Somersetshire, 17th August, 1853.
To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY,
Sir,—A Mr. JOSEPH PURTON, formerly a resident of this place, had been in a declining state of health for upwards of three years, gradually wasting away to a shadow by nightly perspirations and want of appetite, which caused great uneasiness to his friends, as he had consulted various medical men in Bath, without effect. He at last used your Pills, and under providence was restored to health by their means. He lately emigrated to New York, and has just written to say, that he was never better in health, and desired me to acquaint you with the circumstance. I ought also to mention, that my wife had derived great benefit from the use of your Pills.
I remain, Sir, yours respectfully,
CHARLES SMITH, Dissenting Minister.
A PERMANENT CURE OF A DISEASED LIVER, OF MANY YEARS' DURATION.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. Gamis, Chemist, Yeovil, to Professor Holloway.
Dear Sir—In this district your Pills command a more extensive sale than any other proprietary medicine before the public. As a proof of their efficacy in Liver and Bilious Complaints I may mention the following case. A lady of this town with whom I am personally acquainted, for years was a severe sufferer from disease of the Liver and digestive organs; her medical attendant assured her that he could do nothing to relieve her sufferings, and it was not likely she could survive many months. This announcement naturally caused great alarm among her friends and relations, and they induced her to make a trial of your Pills; which so improved her general health that she was induced to continue them until she received a perfect cure. This is twelve months ago, and she has not experienced any symptoms of relapse, and often declares the your Pills have been the means of saving her life.
I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,
July 23d, 1853. (Signed) J. GAMIS.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

UNDER THE NAME AND FIRM OF RUFUS KING & CO.

Thursday Morning, April 6.

DAILY, - - - - - $6 per annum.
TRI-WEEKLY, - - - - 3 " "
WEEKLY, - - - - - 1 " "

NOTICE TO BUSINESS MEN.

The circulation of the DAILY SENTINEL is by far the LARGEST of any daily paper published in the State; and presents greater advantages to Merchants, Mechanics and Artisans, as a medium of Advertising.

The Weekly Sentinel has now a circulation of over TWO THOUSAND copies, which is constantly and rapidly increasing. Advertisements put in the Weekly at the same rates as in the Daily.

All Advertisements appear in the Tri-Weekly Sentinel without additional charge.

Price of the Daily $6,00, of the Tri-Weekly $3,00 and of the Weekly $1,00 per year, payable in advance.

Legislative Doings.

We publish in another column the balance of the list of appropriations made by our Legislature, just adjourned. The total number of acts passed is——, of which——are general, and——local and private, the vast majority of these last being passed in direct opposition to the Constitution, which prohibits special legislation, and directs general laws to be passed.

The number of appropriation bills is——, besides a large number involving the expenditure of money, but passed as general laws. As far as appears in the list, the figures foot up the very liberal amount of $146,509,75.

To this are to be added numerous other items, such as, the per diem and mileage of members, salaries, for officers (including Judges) increased salaries, printing, newspapers, postage, State Lunatic Asylum, interest on state debt, publication of laws, distribution of laws and documents, Supreme Court Reports, contingent expenses of Comptroller's office, &c. &c. which we estimate, at the lowest probable figures, at $122,800,00

And we have the interesting total of $269,309,75 as the financial result of the session of the Legislature just closed and we are confident that there are items behind which do not occur to us. How long will the people endure this?

The Oakland and Ottawa Rail Road.

A letter received by us yesterday from a friend in New York contains the following interesting item: "I have just read a letter from England "which states that the proposition of English "Capitalists to build the Oakland & Ottawa "Rail Road has been accepted by the Company, "and the writer was then in London, awaiting "the arrival of the parties from Brussels to close "the contract. Arrangements were to be made "by the parties contracting for the speedy com"pletion of the road to Grand Haven. Thus "another link in the great chain that is to bind "the East and the North-West, via Milwaukee, "is to be soon completed. Why cannot an "arrangement be effected for the simultaneous "completion of your Milwaukee and Mississippi "Rail Road to Prairie du Chien? This arrange"ment for the rapid construction of the Oakland "and Ottawa road adds vastly, I think, to the "value and importance of the M. & M. Rail "Road."

CHIEF JUSTICE SHAW'S DECISION.—We publish to-day, at the request of Marshal Ableman, the opinion of Chief Justice Shaw, of Massachusetts, on a subject nearly related to that which is exciting so much attention and interest in our city at the present time—the rescue case, and the writ of habeas corpus.

NEW YORK TEMPERANCE BILL.—An attempt was made in the New York Senate, to pass the Temperance Bill over the Governor's veto, and the vote stood 13 to 12. A two-third vote of all the members present being required, the bill is doubtless dead for the session.

Judicial Election—Third Circuit.

An election for Judge of the Third Circuit of this State was held on Monday last. There were three Candidates in the field; CHAS. H. LARRABEE, independent; SAMUEL BAIRD, People's, and A. M. BLAIR, "regular democratic." We have the following returns:

Ozaukee.—Larrabee 232, Baird 21, Blair 11.—Belgium and Fredonia, in same County, 300 majority for Larrabee—Remaining towns 7 or 800 majority for Blair.

GREENFIELD. The following are the Officers chosen at the Town election in Greenfield on Tuesday last:

Supervisors—Francis Ward, Ch'n. Peter Gubel, Joseph Deitzler.
Town Clerk—Wm. W. Johnson.
Treasurer—Patrick Hackett.
Sup't. of Schools—Edwin Johnson.
Assessor—C. F. Ellsworth.
Justices of the Peace—C. F. Ellsworth, Sydney Evans.
Constables—F. D. Weld, Theodore Youngblood.

WISCONSIN STATE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. An adjourned meeting of this society is to be held at Lake Mills on the 20th and 21st of this month.—All interested in the cause are invited to attend.

CHICAGO HARBOR.—The Chicago Journal says that the President of the Board of Trade, having telegraphed to the Secretary of War for permission to use the U. S. Dredge, to remove the Bar at the entrance of their Harbor, received for answer that it was not in the power of the Department to lend the property of the Government. So the Dredge remains idle; the Government neglecting to use it themselves and refusing to allow others to do so. We think the most serious "obstructions" to all our Harbors on the Lakes, are the "old fogies" in the different Bureaus at Washington and prominent among them, Col. ABERT.

RIPON HERALD.—The Ripon (Fond du Lac Co) Herald, in announcing the retirement of Mr. Bovy, one of the publishers, and making a statement of its circulation and prospects, says:

> We think the business men of the lake shore towns can find no better medium amongst the country press, to publish themselves, than our own columns; if their desire is, to be known extensively in one of the best portions of any State, we certainly shall come in for a large share of advertising among them.

We second the motion. Our liberal-minded merchants will do well to look into the matter and send the Herald their advertisements.

A HANDSOME REWARD.—The Government has presented to the owners of the ship Antarctic (which took off a portion of the passengers on the San Francisco) the sum of $25,000 as a token of gratitude for the service rendered.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.—The names of that noble little band of Sothern Whigs who had the manly courage to disregard the censure they may meet at home for their honorable course on the Nebraska bill, are Hunt of Louisiana, Puryear of North Carolina, Franklin of Maryland, and Cullom Rugg and Etheridge of Tennessee.

RACINE ELECTION.—The following are the names of the officers of Racine, elected on Tuesday:

Mayor—D. MCDONALD.
Clerk—ISAAC HARMON.
Treasurer—G. C. FLAGG.
Marshal—E. WEED.
Justice of the Peace—IRA C. PAINE.
Rail Road Commissioner—M. M. STRONG.
Assessor—MR. BERWICK.
Cheif Engineer—J. WRATTAN.
Sup't of Schools—M. P. KINNEY.

The British ship "Three Bells," Captain Creighton, which left New York on the 22d February, arrived at Glasgow on March 10th—thus making the passage in 16 days—the quickest trip ever made.

The St. Louis Republican notices the arrival of many boat loads of emigrants at that city, who are on their way to Wisconsin and Iowa, from Ohio and Pennsylvania.

For the Sentinel.

The Military and the U. S. Marshal.

Messrs. Editors:

With your permission, I beg leave to correct the statement about the pay to the Troops, as set forth in the Free Democrat of Saturday.

I would say, that so far as the Troops or Uniformed Companies being ordered out, by a call made on me, that part needs to be corrected. At an early hour of the day Capt. JENNINGS, Commander of the Milwaukee City Guards, called on me and stated that the U. S. Marshal had ordered him to call out his Company to assist him in the discharge of his duty as U. S. Marshal, by verbal order. I therefore recommended him to get a written order, and by his request accompanied him to the office of the U. S. Marshal, from whom, in my presence, Capt. JENNINGS did get the written order. I proceeded with Capt. J. to my office, where I showed him the U. S. Law on the subject, and recommended him to the obedience of the same.

Some time after, Capt. JENNINGS called on me and left the order, stating that he would like to have the pay of the men guaranteed before he would call out his Company. Accordingly, I got Mr. SHARPSTEIN, U. S. District Attorney; to guarantee the same, and accompanied Capt. JENNINGS to his 1st Lieutenant, A. MCCORMICK, whom he notified to appear in uniform at their armory, immediately; we also called on his 1st or Orderly Sergeant, FOLEY, whom he likewise notified to warn the officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the Guards to appear in uniform at their armory immediately. After parting with Capt. JENNINGS, I proceeded to the armory of the Milwaukee City Rifles, commanded by Capt. H. MILLER, who had received a like order, and found Capt. MILLER and his officers and privates in uniform, waiting further orders, and saw the Company formed and roll called.

So far from the Companies in question having been called out by me, or by any order to me, they were not, nor did I ever receive any orders to that effect; for had I received such orders as would require me to call out the Military Companies, it would be promptly obeyed.

But, I will say that the two Companies in question were under the immediate command of their respective Captains, who advised with me on the subject, and by request of the Capt. of the Rifle Company, I did remain with him in his armory, as he wished my presence in the event of any trouble, where I remained until late in the evening, expecting further orders. The Company then numbered from 49 to 55, rank and file, who were paid for their services. I do not know what number of men the Milwaukee City Guards had in attendance at their armory, as I was informed when I called there, that Capt. JENNINGS had dismissed his Company; and they did not receive pay or compensation for their services.

I will add, that as long as I had the honor to command the Guards, and since, I have always and at all times found them prompt in the obedience to all orders that they might receive from time to time, and no matter what the emergency might be I always found them, like true citizens, willing and ready to support the Laws and Dignity of our State. I have never found a member of any of the Uniform Companies of our City deficient in the promptness of Regular Soldiers, and I feel proud to be associated with them.

J. McMANMAN,
Adjutant and Inspector General.
Milwaukee, April 4, 1854.

For the Daily Sentinel.

A Correction.

Messrs. Editors:

I feel it due at least to myself to correct an error in the copy of Mr. Watkins' remarks before me, as published by you this morning. The paragraph commencing as printed,—"As a last resort, application was made to Judge Milller"—and reflecting upon his character so severely, was never uttered before me. Nor did Mr. Watkins say in my presence—"If I am not convicted, I shall entertain at no time any suspicion that it is from any fault of the Court." Upon enquiry of the four or five persons who were present, I find that my recollection is confirmed by them, and I am confident that no such language was used, or could have been used, unnoticed by me.

I have not deemed it necessary to correct the numerous and palpable misstatements concerning myself, but justice to others seems to require that I should call attention to an error, which my acquaintance with Mr. Watkins would not lead me to suppose is intentional.

Yours, &c., WINFIELD SMITH.

Error Corrected.

HARTLAND, April 2, 1854.

Messrs Editors:—I have just read, in your paper of the 29th March, a report of a political meeting recently held in this village, and was not a little surprised to find myself represented as concurring in the proceedings of that meeting.—That report is singularly erroneous in this particular. I quietly took a seat in that very meagre Assembly, to hear Gen. Paine, of your city, on the Nebraska Bill. He did not appear, and as something must "be did," a Chairman and Secretary were appointed. On motion, a committee was appointed to report resolutions, "expressive of the sense of the meeting," of course. But what was the sense of the meeting? Dr. Castleman referred to a printed notice, calling the meeting for the purpose of censuring Senator McLane. He very properly opposed the introduction of such personalities, and the Senator's case was "continued," and the Nebraska Bill "taken up,"—my name was called on that committee, the honors of which were declined, on the ground of ignorance of the said Bill, and being strongly suspicious of the designs of those who originated the meeting. The callers were not present, and the called were dubious of their calling. In the absence of the committee I was called on for a speech, by which it was easy to infer that they courted opposition, in order to a victory; they having eight speakers against one, and that one rather rudely dragged into the fight, while nine tenths of the Assembly were ready to vote themselves right instanter. The offensive Bill was not produced, nor its merits discussed; only it was a "swindle," a "fraud," a "Breach of faith," &c, &c, and when proof of such allegations was called for, one of the most active of the party "knew it was so." The published resolutions speak for themselves, and containing as many falsehoods (errors?) as facts, I will be obliged if you will let your readers see this brief disclaimer of any connexion with them on the said meeting.

E. G. BENJAMIN.

ROBBERY.—On Thursday last a very bold robbery was committed in this city. At or near the middle of the day, Mr. Chesley's daguerrean room was forcibly broken into, his trunk broken open and robbed of $300 in money, which he had deposited there that same morning. We do not learn that he has the least suspicion of the person or persons who committed this daring robbery. Watertown Chronicle.

COUNTERFEITER SUDDENLY ARRESTED.—Mr. Dodge of the Gambling Saloon of Cunningham & Dodge, of Boge's Hall, has passed upon several of our citizens, counterfeit bills on the Exchange Bank of Lockport for which he has been arrested and held to bail in the sum of $800 to appear at court in Jefferson, to answer the charge of willfully uttering or passing counterfeit notes. The gentleman who commenced the legal proceedings against this house is deserving of much credit for his exertion in ridding the community of those whose only business appears to be to make a living out of honest and industrious citizens.—Watertown Chronicle.

FIRST VESSEL FOR BUFFALO.—The brig Caroline, Capt. Chase, sailed about 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon for Buffalo, with a cargo of 12,752 bushels of corn, and 180 pigs of lead.—This is the first vessel to leave this port this season for the lower lakes.

The first vessel to leave here last year for Buffalo was the schooner Crescent, with a cargo of corn. She sailed on the morning of March 30th. Chicago Tribune, April 5.

They require better food, more of it, and more frequently, than is supposed by many, though they should never taste fermented drinks, except as medicine.

*This appropriation never passed the Assembly. It was resisted in the Senate, on the ground that the account was made out for more days' services before the impeachment committee than that committee sat, as appeared by the Journal; but the Senate passed it. It never came to the Assembly at all, and could not have passed that body.

Effective Forces likely to be Involved in the Pending European War.

RUSSIA.—Population 65,931,970. Troops of the line 594,000. Irregulars 412,000.—Total force in 1848—1,006,000.

The Navy is composed of forty-five ships of the line, and thirty frigates.

TURKEY.—Population 35,350,000; of these about two thirds are Mussulmen. The army in time of peace is composed of 448,860 men, but increased in time of war to about 600,000.

The Navy consists of 4 ships of the first class, 13 of the second and 14 frigates, mounting 2,286 guns, and carrying about 17,000 men.

ENGLAND—And her dependencies comprise a population of 135,632,046—of which about one hundred millions are in their East India possessions. The regular army embraces about 162,000—increased by the aid of irregulars as circumstances may require.

The British Navy consists of 468 ships and vessels, forming an aggregate of 560,000 tons.

FRANCE,—The population of France is put down at 36,594,196.

The army on the first of January, 1853, amounted to 502,990, which, with the "reserves," so called constitute an aggregate of 730,000 men.

The French Navy consists of about 120 ships, all in the highest state of efficiency.

AUSTRIA.—The Austrian army, reserves included, a little short of 600,000 men.

The Navy consists of 27 vessels, mounting 540 guns. Population 37,533,753.

PRUSSIA—Has a population of 16,346,625. The army comprises 614,000 men. The Navy is yet to be inaugurated.

DENMARK.—Population 2,450,000. The nominal strength of the army is stated to be 32,781 men. The Navy consists of about 37 vessels carrying 980 guns.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY—Comprise a population of about 5,000,000. The army consists of about 44,000 men.

The Navy comprises about 60 vessels of all classes, and 400 guns.

RECAPITULATION.

Russian Army	1,006,000
Turkish	600,000
English	162,000
French	730,000
Austrian	600,000
Prussian	614,000
Danish	32,781
Swedish and Norwegian	34,000

This does not embrace the Naval force, but of those England has nearly twice as much as all the other countries combined.

It is not to be supposed that a general war even would bring all the forces mentioned above into action, yet the aggregate presents a striking picture of the manner in which the world is governed. Here are nearly four millions of men employed to keep a few States in order!

FREE SPEECH VINDICATED IN VIRGINIA.—A few days ago the editor of the Wheeling (Va.) Gazette denounced the Nebraska swindle, concluding his article as follows:

> It will be seen from the foregoing that we are opposed to any more slave territory. We are opposed to the Northern States interfering with Slavery in the States where it is, but we believe it to be their duty to stand up manfully and firmly against the extension of it, while we consider those who yield the question, for the sake of southern favor, are corrupt politicians and unworthy of public confidence.

This article excited the wrath of the pro-slavery chivalry. The Gazette was denounced by the other papers in the city, and a public meeting called to teach the editor of the Gazette better manners. The call was responded to by a dense crowd, and a series of denunciatory resolutions were reported and sustained by several speakers. Mr. WHARTON, the editor of the Gazette, had leave to defend himself, which he did in an able and fearless manner, reiterating and justifying his views to the full extent. The meeting cheered him at every sentence, and when he closed, the original resolutions were withdrawn, and another passed, endorsing his veiws and applauding his independence.—Albany Evening Journal.

COUNTERFEITS.—The Toledo Republican states that a young man by the name of Julius Seely, of Ashtabula County, Ohio, was arrested on the 25th, and that $536 in counterfeit bills, mostly fives of the Exchange Bank, Lockport, New York, was found in his possession. This is a new counterfeit and should be guarded against. Seely was taken before Mayor Dorr, and committed to jail in default of $2000 bail.

That paper adds: "We were shown this morning by Marshal Springer, the pile of counterfeit money secured on the man arrested yesterday. It consisted of new counterfeits on the Exchange Bank, Lockport, made by altering the old Unadilla counterfeit plates. In the place of the female head at the right end of the bill, there is a full length female figure, representing a country girl in a harvest field, raking grain.—The 5 in the center of the bill to the left of the vignette, is changed to a fancifully worked V.; the name Unadilla to Exchange; Lockport in place of Otsego County.

BURIAL OF JONATHAN HARRINGTON.—The funeral solemnities of Jonathan Harrington, the last survivor of the battle of Lexington, were celebrated yesterday, and were very imposing. The Governor, Lieut. Governor, Executive Council, and many members of both branches of the Legislature were present. Eighteen military companies and several Masonic Orders were in the procession, and it is estimated that some 6,000 strangers were in Lexington.—N. Y. Mirror 31st.

RIPON RAIL ROAD.—The Milwaukee & Horicon Rail Road Company are on their last line South of Fox River, expecting to finish the field works with this week. They have already advertised for proposals, calculating to have their entire line to Berlin, and all Depot Questions settled, and their plans and specifications fully completed by the 10th inst.—Ripon Herald.

City Matters.

POLICE COURT—April5.

A warrant was issued against John Doen (alias) for fast driving on Spring Street Bridge.

The case against the men now in jail for a riot in the second ward was set down for examination this morning at 9 o'clock.

A warrant was issued against ERNEST KALENBERG and wife on a charge of assault and battery upon Detver Fishblack on the 5th of April.—The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Fisher for service.

LA CROSSE RAIL ROAD.—We learn that the LA CROSSE R. R. Company have arranged for the purchase of seven more Locomotives, making ten in all. They are also about to purchase several cars, both passenger and freight; these will be the twelve wheeled cars, claimed to be superior to the kind more generally in use, as if an axle breaks, that will not prevent the car from continuing. The Engineers are now at work, establishing the line between Fox Lake, Dodge Co, and Portage City. This portion of the road is perhaps, for the same length, the easiest region in the state to construct a railroad; in one spot, a man standing, can see nearly four miles in each direction, besides its cutting through a fine grain raising country, well timbered and watered.

Everything is in a most flourishing condition with this company; funds are raised without difficulty from Eastern Capitalists, and we see nothing to prevent the early completion of this road to Portage City, to the great help of those living so far from Milwaukee; a distance so great, that unless grain brings a good price it is almost a waste of time to bring it to market.

FAST DRIVING ON A BRIDGE.—A man named Thomas Dunn, formerly a bridge tender, was arrested and brought up by the Marshal for driving faster than a walk on Spring Street bridge. The man when asked to plead stated, "I happened to trust the horse with the lines and you see he's skittish and he trotted a few steps and no thanks to me. I could'nt hold him, I know I'm guilty, you see I used to be bridge tender myself at Walker's Point! The defendant here made a few remarks that he could'nt help it &c. when the city attorney stated to him that it was the only way they could enforce the ordinance and prevent the bridge from being ruined, was to take up every body that drove faster than a walk.

Defendant "well its a pretty good way to get a bridge built any how, it 'll help pay some of them as done work upon it, but its all a poor man can do, now to earn oats for his horse!

The defendant promised to pay the fine $5,00 on Saturday night and was discharged.

Juries in the Rescue Trials.

As many erroneous impressions are abroad, in relation to the mode of empannelling juries in the coming "rescue trials," we have copied the rule of the U. S. Court, under which juries are summoned and empanelled. At our request Mr. Miller, the Clerk of the Court, showed us the two boxes containing the names, as written and placed there, under the requirements of the Court Rule and called up. And as these names were placed there in November last, upwards of four months previous to the rescue, we can see no reason for believing in the idea that a jury can be packed, as has been intimated abroad:

Sec. 1. The Clerk and Marshal shall on the first Monday of November in each year, select a number of persons, citizens of the State of Wisconsin, and qualified to serve as jurors, not less than four hundred, to act as jurors the coming year; and an equal number of said names shall be put into two boxes, to be kept by the clerk, sealed up. In one of said boxes, shall be the jurors for the court at Madison, and in the other, the jurors for the court at Milwaukee. And at a convenient time, not less than fifteen days before each stated term, the clerk and marshal shall draw out of the proper box, the number of names required as grand and petit jurors; and before each special term for the trial of issues, the names required as petit jurors; in obedience to the venire, which shall be issued, commanding the Marshal to summon the same.

Sec. 2. The Marshal shall annex to the return of every venire, a panel of jurors summoned, designating their names, residences, and occupations; and at the request of any party indicted, the clerk may furnish him with a copy of the panel.

Sec. 3. Jurors will be called in court and challenged as prescribed by law.

THE JAIL AND ITS INMATES.—Having a little leisure yesterday we paid a visit to the jail, and what was somewhat gratifying, found some ladies there visiting the prisoners, expressing deep sorrow for incarcerated humanity, some of them small and young specimens, and some of them females. We could not help thinking, that bad other females, who bore those prisoners—for remember, ladies, and we wish you to bear it well in mind, that not an inmate in that prison but had a mother, and father too—had those females, those mothers and fathers, felt perhaps half as much interest for their offspring in their infancy and boyhood, and whispered in their ears, they would not now be in cells or prison-rooms. There are at present, twenty-four in jail, the number for which it was originally built; nineteen men, two women and three boys.

One of the men there is crazed, a Scotchman by birth, John S. Campbell, formerly a soldier in the British army, having a wife and family in Portage City, Columbia County. Stretched in a cell—naked as at birth—reduced to a skeleton—his bones nearly protruding through the skin—lies the soldier who has once fought the battles of his country! We learned that this man has been a long time in jail, originally in the Poor House in this County—became unruly—sent back to jail—now ill, dangerously ill, and without medical help—which is virtually denied to him—dying for the want of it! The jail physician had been sent for; he cannot attend him there, and recommends him to be removed to the Poor House, where he can be properly attended to. The commissioners of the Poor refuse to have him there saying that he ought to be sent to Columbia Co, where he belongs. The man, we are satisfied, would die before he went half way. Between the advice of the Doctor and the refusal of the Poor Superintendent, the old soldier will soon breathe his last, and who will be guilty of his death?—This savors too much of "British management of the poor," to be tolerated here. We notice it, in plain language—we report it, that the public may know it, and if we cannot get at him by the Poor Law, let us have another Rescue, that all Judges will sanction, and the Greatest of all smile upon.

So far as the jailor is concerned, he administers to the poor man all he can, and is not in the remotest manner to blame, we say this from actual observation; but it is more than can be said of others who will be held to account, should this poverty stricken old soldier die on their hands—OR WANT.

REMOVAL.—Messrs. GREENE & BUTTON, who have for years occupied a store directly under our office, carrying on the Drug business in a quiet, sure way, and bearing with equanimity the thundering of our steam presses, and an occasional dripping of black water, have "gone and left us," having bought out the stock of A. F. CLARK, in the next block below, and removed to that location. They are a couple of clever, fair dealing men, and deserve success, which they mean to gain by letting the people know their whereabouts, and what they have to sell. See their advertisement.

MILITARY APPOINTMENT.—We learn that Gov BARSTOW has appointed our fellow-citizen, JOHN MCMANMAN, Adjutant General of Wisconsin.—This is a good appointment. Gen. MCMANMAN has the zeal, ability and experience to make an excellent Officer, and will take pride in building up the Militia of our State.

☞ The name of the recipient of one of the prizes at the Exhibition at Young's Hall on Tuesday ev'g was printed wrong in our notice. It should have read "M. L. Fairbanks."

MILITARY COMPANY.—An adjourned meeting of those who intend to become members of this company is to be held this evening, at the Engine House of No. 1, on Wisconsin St. for final organization. A prompt and full attendance is hoped for.

THE HARBOR.—H. W. Gunnison, U. S. Harbor Agent, showed us last evening a letter from Hon. Daniel Wells, from Washington, stating that he had just been informed by Col. Abert that the Board had settled upon the plans for the harbor at the Straight Out, and the approval of the Secretary was expected in the course of a week.

The letter, dated the 31st, states that snow was falling at Washington on that day.

ANOTHER ARREST.—Gen'l PAINE, counsel of Mr. Booth, was arrested yesterday on a charge of aiding in the rescue of Glover, but the District Attorney did not think the proof sufficient to hold him to bail, and he was discharged.

SHOCKING CASUALTY.—Mr. Hyman Hoxie, Foreman in the moulding shop at the foundry of H. P. Moses & Co., was instantly killed yesterday afternoon, about half past 5 o'clock, in the following shocking manner;—He was at work in the shop, under a flask suspended from a crane, when some of its supports gave way and the flask fell upon him, crushing his head and killing him instantly. Mr. Hoxie was about 50 years of age, and leaves a family to lament his sudden death. He was a most excellent man, and highly esteemed by all who knew him.—Chicago Dem. Press, 5th inst.

LAUNCH.—The new [illegible] schooner of Messrs. Pendleton & Taylor was launched at Beckwith's ship yard on Saturday forenoon. She went off the ways in fine style, with colors flying; and on receiving the first embrace of the element in which she was wedded, was christened, in honor of our worthy townsman, with the name of Gilbert Knapp.—Racine Advocate April 3d.

FOR THE LOWER LAKES.—The Schooner Leland, Capt. Hubbard, intends leaving to-day for Buffalo. She takes corn on account of her owners the Messrs. Walker.

The Caroline, Capt. Chase, owned by the same and the Brig Roscius, Capt. Hawkins owned and loaded by C. Richmond & Co, will follow soon. These are the first actual clearances and will only be prevented by unfavorable weather.—Chicago Journal.

☞ The new steamer Canadian Lily arrived yesterday from Chatham on her first trip. She left Chatham Friday evening; and, on getting into Lake St. Clair, found the ice running in such large quantities, that her Captain deemed it imprudent to keep her on her course. She was accordingly anchored, and remained at anchor all night.—Detroit Free Press, 30th inst.

Oswego, April 1.

There is one clearance to-day for Lake Erie, but from the tenor of advices from above, it is not probable vessels will be able to enter that Lake from Welland Canal for some days.

The propeller Dayton has a full load of merchandize and is about ready to clear for Toronto. Bonded merchandize is coming in freely, and papers were received to-day at the Custom House of a large amount under way from Boston

REVIEW OF THE EUROPEAN [illegible] TRADE.

[FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY MARCH 17[illegible]

The Wheat trade has remained in an exceeding[illegible] state since our last, and a further fall has taken place in prices at all the leading provincial marts. At Liverpool the depression has been greater then elsewhere, owing to the extent of the arrivals of breadstuffs from America.—During the week ending 13th instant, upwards of 100,000 barrels flour were received at that port, which caused so great a pressure that good brands of Baltimore were actually sold at 35s. per barrel. This important decline brought forward rather more buyers, and some extensive purchases were made on Tuesday, at 36s. 6d per barrel.—There is evidently an increasing apprehension in regard to monetary affairs, which tends to check anything like speculation, and renders those who buy for consumption more than usually cautious in their operations. Such being the position of affairs, a very small excess in supply over what is required for immediate use suffices to cause a decline in prices; and, as there is a prospect of fair arrivals from the Baltic now that a shift of wind has taken place to the eastward, it is not improbable that the downward movement may continue for a time.

Meanwhile, nothing has transpired to alter the real position of affairs; the extreme deficiency of the last harvest is not even questioned, and the prevailing belief that stocks in farmers' hands are very small has become more and more general. The sowing of spring corn is now drawing to a close (the extraordinary fine weather experienced during the last month having enabled the work to be carried on without interruption); farmers are, therefore, no longer so closely engaged in the fields, and we might have calculated on materially increased deliveries from the growers. Thus far, however, little or no increase has taken place, and prices have been better supported at the markets in the agricultural districts than at the leading consuming towns. The political state of our relations with Russia appears for the moment to have no influence on the Corn Trade, and the certainty that the supplies from the Russian ports in the Baltic, as well as from those in the Black Sea, must be interfered with, if not wholly stopped, fails to make any impression on the minds of our buyers.—How long this state of things may last cannot be foreseen, but we cannot help thinking that the extreme deficiency of the last harvest, together with the falling off which must take place in the supplies from Russia, will sooner or later be felt, and we do not consider that the position of affairs warrants the present depression.

VOLUME X. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

Chief Justice Shaw's Decision.

Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.—Monday, April 7, 1851.

Present—Chief Justice Shaw, and Justice Fletcher, Metcalf, and Bigelow.

Thomas Sims, Petitioner for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Before a writ of habeas corpus is granted, sufficient probable cause must be shown; but when it appears from the party's own showing that there is no sufficient ground prima facie for a discharge, the court will not issue the writ.

How far it is competent for one court, by a writ of habeas corpus to the executive officer of another court, after the prisoner has, by the execution and return of the warrant, come under the control of such court, to take a prisoner from the custody of another court or tribunal.—Quære.

Under article i. sec. 8, and article iv. sec. 2, of the Constitution of the United States, Congress has authority to pass a law for the reclamation of fugitive slaves.

The Act of Congress of Sept. 18, 1850, being the same in principle as, and differing only in its details from, the Act of Congress of Feb. 12, 1793, which has been decided to be constitutional, is constitutional. The authority conferred by it upon commissioners of the Circuit Court, and its making no provision for a trial by jury in favor of the alleged fugitive, do not make it unconstitutional.

The substance of the petition is stated in the opinion of the court, which, after argument by Mr. Rantoul, upon the unconstitutionality of the law, was given by Chief Justice Shaw.

"This is a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, to bring the petitioner before this court, with a view to his discharge from imprisonment, upon the grounds stated in the petition. We were strongly urged to issue the writ, without inquiry into its cause, and to hear an argument upon the petitioner's right to a discharge, on a return of the writ. This we declined to do, on grounds of principle and common and well settled practice. Before a writ of habeas corpus is granted sufficient probable cause must be shown; but when it appears upon the party's own showing that there is no sufficient ground prima facie for his discharge, the court will not issue a writ. And on a slight reference to the cases, we are of opinion that such is the established rule and practice at common law. Indeed the ordinary course is, for the court applied to, to grant a rule nisi in the first instance to show why the writ should not issue, and of course if sufficient cause is shown, it will be withheld. (Marsh's case, 3 Bulstr. 27.) And in Hobhouse's case, (3 B. & Ald. 420,) the question came before the court and was fully discussed. It was then considered that whether the writ of habeas corpus were claimed at common law or under the statute, a proper ground ought to be laid before the court previously to granting the writ. It is not granted as a matter of course; and the court will not grant a writ of habeas corpus when they see that in the result, they must remand the party. The court in that case, which was a commitment by the House of Commons, upon an urgent claim that it was a matter of right, and some colorable authority cited in support of it, had granted the writ in the first instance, and on its return, stated the reason why it should not have been done.

We think the same rule and practice have prevailed in this country, but have no time now to examine the authorities particularly. Indeed, by necessary implication, it is the fair result of the provisions of the habeas corpus act of this commonwealth, (R. St. ch. 111, sec. 3,) which requires in all cases of an application for the writ of habeas corpus, that the party imprisoned, or some person in his behoof, shall present a petition, and if held under legal process, or color or pretence of legal process, he shall annex a copy of the process, under which the respondent claims to hold and detain him, or make proof by affidavit, that a copy of such writ or warrant has been applied for and refused. But why annex a copy of the process, unless it be to enable the court to form an opinion whether the party is rightly held in custody or not; and why form an opinion in that stage of the proceeding, if it is to constitute no ground for judicial action? It is urged that this is a writ of right, and therefore grantable without inquiry. But it is not a writ of right in that narrow and technical sense; if it were, the issuing of it would be a mere ministerial act, the party claiming it, might go to the clerk and serve it, as he may a writ on a claim for land or money. Not but it is a writ of right in a larger and more liberal sense, a right to be delivered from all unlawful imprisonment. Nor does this limit or restrain the full and beneficial operation of this writ, so essential to the protection of personal liberty. The same court must decide whether the imprisonment complained of, is illegal; and whether the inquiry is had, in the first instance, on the application, or subsequently on the return of the writ, or partly on the one, and partly on the other, it must depend on the same facts and principles, and be governed by the same rule of law. It is upon these grounds, that we stated on the presentation of this, or a somewhat similar petition, that no sufficient cause appeared upon the petition for granting a writ; and upon further consideration we now repeat, that when it appears on the party's own showing in the petition, that if brought before the court the petitioner would not be entitled to a discharge, the court will not issue the writ.

We are then to examine the petition, accompanied as it is, by a copy of the warrant under which the Marshal of the district claims to hold him, and the return thereon. It there appears that the petitioner has been arrested, and is claimed as a fugitive from labor, upon a warrant issued by George T. Curtis, Esq., a Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the United States, in pursuance of a law of the United States, passed by Congress, and that the deputy marshal has returned the warrant to the commissioner who issued it, and has the body of the petitioner before the commissioner, for the purposes expressed in the warrant.

An obvious question occurs here, how far it is competent for this court, by a writ of habeas corpus to the marshal to take a prisoner from the custody of another tribunal, court or magistrate, of whom such marshal is the executive officer, and after the prisoner has, by the execution and return of the warrant, been placed under the control and direction of such court or magistrate, to be held, discharged, brought in, or removed. This point has not been noticed in the argument, and is not, perhaps of much importance, and perhaps it might be avoided by an amendment of the petition. But we have thought it worthy of a passing remark, as one of those considerations, which presented themselves to our minds, after a similar one had been submitted on a former occasion, indicating that apparently, and on the face of the proceedings, the petitioner was in regular and lawful custody.

It is now argued, that the whole proceeding, as it appears upon the warrant and return, is unconstitutional and void, because, although the statute of the United States of 1850, has provided for, and directed this course of proceeding, yet the statute itself is void, because Congress had no power, by the Constitution of the United States, to pass such a law, and confer such an authority. The ground of argument leading to this conclusion is, that it is not competent for Congress, under the power of legislation vested in them by the Constitution, to confer any authority, in its nature judicial, upon any persons, magistrates, or boards, other than organized courts of justice, held by judges, appointed as such, and to hold their offices during good behavior, and paid by fixed salaries; whereas, the commissioners, designated by the law in question, do not hold their offices during good behavior, nor are they paid by fixed salaries. This is the argument.

We are called on to consider two questions; first, Whether Congress has authority to pass any law on the subject; and second, whether the law actually passed, did, in any respect, of which the petitioner has a right to complain, violate the provisions of the Constitution. These are grave questions, and it is impossible to approach them, without a deep sense of responsibility which must rest on any judicial tribunal, when called upon to deliberate upon the constitutionality of any legal enactment adopted by the highest legislative body of the Union, and passed under all the forms required to give it the sanction of law.

The subject matter of this act is the return and restoration of fugitive slaves, designated in the Constitution as persons held to service or labor in one State under the laws thereof, escaping to another. The whole provision, (Art. 4, sec. 2,) is as follows: "No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor; but shall be delivered up, on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due."

Bearing in mind the circumstances under which this provision of the Constitution was adopted, the relations of the several States to each other, and the manifest object which the framers of the Constitution had in view, we are to look at the clause in question, to ascertain its true meaning and effect. We think it was intended to guarantee to the owner of a slave, living within the territory of a State, in which slavery is permitted, all the rights conferred upon such owner, by the laws of such State, and that no State should make its own territory an asylum and sanctuary for fugitive slaves, by any law or regulation, by which a slave who had escaped from a State where he owed labor or service, into such State or territory, should avoid being reclaimed. It was designed also to provide a practicable and peaceable mode, by which such fugitive, upon the claim of the person to whom such labor or service should be due, might be delivered up.

But the right thus secured by the Constitution to the slave owner, is limited by it, and cannot be extended, by implication or construction, a line beyond the precise casus fœderis. The fugitive must not only owe service or labor in another State, but he must have escaped from it. This is the extent of his right. It is founded in the compact and limited by the compact. It has therefore been held, that if a slave is brought into this State by his master, or in the course of his occupation or employment, is brought here, without having escaped, he is not within the law provided for by the Constitution. (Commonwealth v. Aves., 18 Pick. 193; Commonwealth v. Fitzgerald, 7 Law Rep. 379.)

This results not so much from the voluntary act of the master, in bringing, or permitting him to be brought within the limits of a free State, as because the law by which the person is held to slavery in his own State, is local, and has no extra-territorial operation, and because he is not within the provision of the Constitution, under which he may be lawfully removed, not having escaped.

To the extent, however, to which this privilege or benefit goes, that of securing the return of persons, owing service or labor in one State, who had fled and escaped into another, this provision of the Constitution must be regarded as complete and sufficient to the proposed right. But the Constitution itself did not profess or propose to direct, in detail, how the rights, privileges, benefits and immunities intended to be declared and secured by it, should be practically carried into effect; this was left to be done by laws to be passed by the Legislature, and applied by the judiciary, for the establishment of which full provision was at the same time made. The Constitution contemplated a division and distribution of the powers incident to a sovereign State, between the general government of the United States, and the governments of each particular State; a distribution not pending on local limits, but by selecting certain subjects of common interest, and placing them under the entire and exclusive jurisdiction of the general government; such, for instance, as the foreign relations of the country, the subject of war and peace, treaties, the regulation of commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes. These are a few of the most prominent subjects, by way of illustration. And the theory of the general government is, that these subjects, in the full extent and entire details, being placed under the jurisdiction of the general government, are necessarily withdrawn from the jurisdiction of the State, and therefore become exclusive. And this is necessary to prevent constant collision and interference; and it is obvious that it must be so, because two distinct governments cannot exercise the same power, at the same time, on the same subject matter. This is not left to mere implication. But it is expressly declared, (Art. 1, sec. 8,) that Congress shall have power to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper, for carrying into execution all the powers vested by the Constitution, in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

And by Article 6, this Constitution, and the laws of the United States, which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties, &c., shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding. All such laws, made by the general government, upon the rights, duties and subjects, specially enumerated and confided to their jurisdiction, are necessarily exclusive and supreme, as well by express provision, as by necessary implication. And the general government is provided with its executive, legislative and judicial departments, not only to make laws regulating the rights, duties and subjects, thus confided to them, but to administer right and justice respecting them in a regular course of adjudication, and cause them to be carried into full execution, by its own powers, without dependence upon State authority, and without any let or restraint imposed by it.

It was, as we believe, under this view of the right of regaining specifically the custody of one from whom service or labor is due, by the laws of one State, and who has escaped into another, and under this view of the powers of the general government, and the duty of Congress, that the law of Feb. 12, 1793, was passed. It was passed at the second Congress, so soon after the adoption of the Constitution, that many of the members may be well presumed to have been members of the convention, and all of them to have been intimately conversant with the great principles of the Constitution, and with the views, intentions, and purposes of its framers.

This species of contemporaneous construction has ever been regarded as of great weight and importance, and is entitled to the highest respect. It bears with a great weight of authority upon two points; first, as to the power and duty of Congress to pass laws to secure and carry into effect a right confirmed by the Constitution of the United States; and, secondly, the fitness of the provisions of law thereby adopted, and their adaptation to the proper and practical assertion of the right secured by the Constitution.

The act of Feb. 12, 1793, made for the purpose of providing and declaring the manner in which the claim shall be made for the fugitive from service, who has escaped, is substantially as follows: That when any person held to labor in any of the United States, or in either of the territories, under the laws thereof, shall escape into any other of the said States or territories, the person to whom such labor may be due, his agent or attorney is empowered to seize or arrest such fugitive, and to take him or her before any judge of the Circuit or District Courts of the United States, residing or being within the State, or before any magistrate of a county, city, or town corporate, wherein such seizure or arrest shall be made; and upon proof to the satisfaction of such judge or magistrate, that the person so seized doth, under the laws of the State or territory from which he fled, owe service to the person thus claiming him, it shall be the duty of such judge or magistrate to give a certificate to the claimant, which shall be a sufficient warrant for removing the fugitive to the State or territory from which he fled.

The manifest intent of this act of Congress was, to regulate and give effect to the right given by the Constitution. It secures to the claimant the aid and assistance of certain magistrates and officers, to enable him to exercise his right in a more regular and orderly manner, and without being chargeable with a breach of the peace. It obviously contemplated a prompt and summary proceeding, adapted to the exigency of the occasion, in aid of a power, in terms conferred by the Constitution on the claimant. It vested the power of inquiry, (whether regarded as judicial or otherwise,) the same power which is now drawn in question, in magistrates of counties, cities or town corporate. As to the mode of trial contemplated by this act, it is described by Mr. Justice McLean, in his opinion in the case hereafter cited, and in these terms: Both the Constitution and the act of 1793 require the fugitive from labor to be delivered up on claim being made by the party, or his agent, to whom the service is due. Not that a suit should be regularly instituted. The proceeding authorized by the law is summary and informal. The fugitive is seized and taken before a magistrate within the State, and on proof, parol or written, that he owes labor to the claimant, it is made the duty of the judge or magistrate to give the certificate, which authorizes the removal of the fugitive to the State from whence he absconded.

A historical fact is mentioned by the same learned judge, which may throw some light, not only on the introduction of the constitutional provision, but the form of the law intended to carry it into effect. At an early period, says he, of our history, slavery existed in all the colonies, and fugitives from labor were claimed and delivered up under a spirit of comity or conventional law among the colonies. If such was the practice when the colonies were independent of each other in their municipal laws or regulations, and even after a partial union by the articles of confederation, which made no provision on the subject, may it not be reasonably conjectured that this claim to custody of the person of the alleged slave, when there was no positive law to regulate it, was exercised through the medium of colonial magistrates exercising analogous powers in similar cases; and may not this have suggested the method provided for in the act of 1793?

By the act of 1793, the authority of issuing a warrant to arrest a fugitive from labor, of inquiring into the fact both of owing labor and of having escaped, and the authority of granting a certificate, is conferred on justices of the peace, appointed for a term of years, and without salary, by the State Government, or the magistrates of cities and towns corporate. It is very manifest, therefore, that their powers were not deemed judicial by the Congress of 1793, in the sense in which it is now insisted, that the Commissioner before whom the petitioner has been brought, is in the exercise of judicial powers not warranted by the Constitution, because not commissioned as a judge, and holding his office during good behavior. Indeed, it is difficult, by general terms, to draw a precise line of distinction between judicial powers and those not judicial. It is easy to designate the broad line, but not easy to mark the minute shades of difference between them. Those officers who hold Courts and have civil and criminal jurisdiction, beyond doubt exercise judicial powers. But there are, under every government, functions to be exercised, partly judicial and partly administrative, which yet require skill and experience, judgment, and even legal and judicial discrimination, which it is more difficult to classify. So under our own government, in the Constitution of which a similar provision is found, requiring all judicial officers, excepting justices of the peace, to be commissioned, and hold their offices during good behavior, we find many such cases. Such are bank commissioners, county commissioners, and sheriffs, when presiding over and instructing juries impannelled to assess road damages, and damages for flooding land; commissioners of insolvency on the estates of deceased persons, and of living insolvent debtors, masters in chancery, and many others.

Now, so far as we understand it, commissioners of the Circuit Court of the United States are officers exercising functions very similar to those of justices of the peace under the laws of the Commonwealth.—They are commonly appointed from among counsellors at law, and of some standing, and well reputed for professional skill and experience. Their duty is, to inquire into violations of the laws of the United States, to hear complaints, issue warrants, hold examinations, and bind over or commit persons for trial for offences. These are functions requiring considerable skill and experience in the administration of justice, and it is just to presume that they are duly qualified to perform their duties.

Would it not be competent for Congress, under the powers vested in the General Government, to provide by law for the appointment of justices of the peace, in each district, to be vested with powers under the laws of the United States, analogous to those exercised under State laws, by justices of peace under the State government, without commissioning them as judges during good behavior, and giving them fixed salaries?

At the same time, it may be proper to say, that if this argument, drawn from the Constitution of the United States, were now first applied to the law of 1793, deriving no sanction from contemporaneous construction, judicial precedent, and the acquiescence of the General and State Governments, the argument from the limitation of judicial power would be entitled to very grave consideration.

But we are not entitled to consider this a new question, but one settled and determined by authorities which it would be a dereliction of official duty, and a disregard of judicial responsibility, to overlook.

We have already referred to the great weight to be given in the exposition of statutes, to what may be regarded as contemporaneous construction; and this construction is of the more importance when the question turns upon the constitutionality of a legal enactment, made soon after the adoption of such Constitution, and for the avowed purpose, not only of conforming strictly to the powers given by the Constitution, but of carrying out the very objects and purposes contemplated by it. To this is now to be added an acquiescence both of the State and General Governments, of their representatives and people, for nearly sixty years, and a series of judicial decisions, by the highest Courts of our own and of the other States; and also of the Supreme Court of the United States, whose authority upon controverted questions, within their jurisdiction, and declared by their judgments, is binding upon the judges of State Courts.

The constitutionality of the act of 1793, came directly before this Court, and was argued and decided in 1823, Commonwealth vs. Griffith, (2 Pick. 11.) The opinion of the Court was delivered by that most humane man and enlightened magistrate, the late Chief Justice Parker. After disposing of a technical question, he says,—This brings the case to a single point, whether the statute of the United States, giving power to seize a slave without a warrant, is constitutional. After alluding to the relative condition of the States, and the circumstances under which the Constitution was made, he says—they (the States by whose laws Slavery was permitted,) might have kept aloof from the Constitution. That instrument was a compromise. It was a compact by which all are bound. We are to consider, then, what is the intention of the Constitution. Again, the Constitution does not prescribe the mode of reclaiming a slave, but leaves it to be determined by Congress. Whether the statute is a harsh one, is not for us to determine. We do not perceive that the statute is unconstitutional, and we think the defence is well made out. The Chief Justice added, that this construction of the statute has been adopted ever since the Federal Constitution went into operation, by Lowell and Davis, justices of the District Court of the United States. To weaken the force of this precedent, it has sometimes been said, when the case has been cited in argument, that this opinion is not unanimous. It is true, that Thatcher, J., dissented from the majority, as to the construction of the law, but did not doubt its constitutionality. He admitted that Congress might prescribe a new mode of apprehending a fugitive from service, which should supersede our law.

In answer to the objection to the constitutionality of this statute, it was pressed upon the consideration of the Court, in the case last cited, that it had been in operation then thirty years, and its constitutionality, it is true, had never been before questioned. If that consideration had wrought with the Court then, the acquiescence of thirty years more has greatly increased it.

I shall next cite the case of Wright v. Deacon, (5 Serg. & Rawle, 62), in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and I do it the more readily, because the opinion was delivered by Tilghman, C. J., whose authority was cited in the argument of this case. It arose on a writ de homine replegiando, sued out by the person claimed as a slave, against the prison keeper, in whose custody he was detained, under a certificate granted conformably to the act of Congress, of 1793. After saying, whatever may be our private opinions on the subject of slavery, he adds,—It is well known that the Constitution could not have been adopted, unless the property in slaves had been secured, and that this Constitution has been adopted by the free consent of the citizens of Pennsylvania. He then cites the article in the Constitution. But, he said, it required a law to regulate the manner in which this principle should be reduced to practice, and cites the act of Congress made for that purpose, and continues: It plainly appears from the whole scope and tenor of the Constitution and act of Congress, that the fugitive was to be delivered, on a summary proceeding, without the delay of a formal trial in a Court of common law, &c. But if this writ de homine replegiando is to issue from a State Court, what is its effect, but to annul the warrant, granted by a magistrate, and thus defeat the Constitution and law of the United States? The Constitution and law of the United States say, that the master may remove his slave by virtue of the judge's certificate; but the State Court says he shall not remove him. It appears to us, that this is the plain state of the matter, and that the writ has been issued in violation of the Constitution of the United States, and that it should be quashed.

The same principles have been decided by the Supreme Court of the State of New York, Jack v. Martin, (12 Wend. 311.) This case was also commenced by a writ de homine replegiando, corresponding with our writ of "personal replevin," by the fugitive and alleged slave, against the mistress. The case is full and decisive. The opinion, as delivered by Mr. Justice Nelson, is very long and instructive, but too long to be quoted here. It affirms the right of the master, as established by the Constitution, the power and duty of the general government to pass laws to secure the right by suitable and practicable means, the exclusive power of Congress to pass such laws, and the invalidity of all State laws on the subject.

But the judicial authority most to be relied on, and which, when distinctly ascertained, is binding and conclusive, upon all subjects within their special jurisdiction, is that of the Supreme Court of the United States. Before the case hereafter cited, the question had come before Mr. Justice Washington, then of the Supreme Court of the United States on the circuit. Hill v. Low, (4 Wash. Cir. Ct. R. 329.) He therein expressed his opinion in favor of the constitutionality of the act of Congress to which I refer, without stating it more particularly.

But the case came before the Supreme Court of the United States, in 1842, on a special verdict, and the point in question was fully discussed and deliberately settled. Prigg v. Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, (16 Pet. 539.)

There was some difference of opinion among the judges, upon minor points, but none, it is believed, upon the subject now under consideration, the constitutionality and binding force of the act of Congress of 1793, and especially of that part of it, which confers an authority on circuit and district judges, and on county and city magistrates, to take a summary jurisdiction, in the manner provided by the act of 1793. Some of the majority were of opinion, that Congress could not, by its own enactments, require State officers, such as magistrates of counties, cities, and towns corporate, to take upon themselves the duty of exercising such jurisdiction; but they conceded, that the law conferred a sufficient authority on them to act, if they should think fit to do so, voluntarily, and were not restrained by State legislation. On the other hand, Mr. Justice McLean, agreeing to the general rule, as to State officers, was of opinion that, under the peculiar circumstances, Congress had the power to enforce this duty upon magistrates, that they were not at liberty to decline it, but were legally bound to execute it.

All the judges were agreed, that the State could make no law, and adopt no regulation, which would impair the right of an owner to pursue and retake a fugitive from labor, but they differed in one particular. The majority were of opinion, that the whole subject being placed under the jurisdiction of the General government, the State governments could make no law on the subject, placing their judgment on the ground, that as the whole subject was placed exclusively under the cognizance of the General Government, it was for Congress to make all the rules and regulations upon the subject; that it was to be presumed they had, in the law in question, made sufficient rules and regulations to give effect, practically to the right intended to be secured, and if that had not been done, it was solely for Congress to supply the deficiency. They also relied on the ground, that if the State laws went further into detail, and made provision for a course of proceeding beyond that indicated by the act of Congress, it might tend to interfere therewith, and that if they prescribed precisely the same modes, they would be merely superfluous and embarrassing. On the contrary, some of the judges were of opinion, that the State Legislature might make laws on the subject, provided only that they should in no way impede or hinder the proceedings under the law of Congress. These, it is believed, are the principal differences in the opinions of the different judges. They all concur in the construction of the Constitution, as intended to secure the right of a slave owner, to regain the custody of a slave who has escaped from service,—in the right of the master, to reclaim him in other States,—in the constitutionality of the law of Congress,—and the nullity and invalidity of any and every State law, which would impair the right, or impede or interfere with the provisions of the act of Congress, providing for a summary proceeding before a judge or magistrate.

Mr. Justice Baldwin concurred in the judgment of the Court, but dissented from the principles laid down by the Court as the grounds of their opinion, but stated none of his own. He had, however, previously expressed an opinion that the act was constitutional on the circuit, in the case of Johnson v. Tompkins, (Bald. Rep. 571.) This case appears to us to be authoritative and decisive.

We have thought it important thus to inquire into the validity and constitutionality of the act of 1793, because it appears to be decisive of that in question. In the only particular in which the constitutionality of the act of Congress of September, 1850, is now called in question, that of 1793 was obnoxious to the same objection, that of authorizing a summary proceeding before officers and magistrates not qualified under the Constitution to exercise the judicial powers of the General Government. Congress may have thought it necessary to change the pre-existing law, not in principle but in detail, because, as we have seen in Prigg's case, some of the judges were of opinion that State magistrates could not act under the authority conferred on them by the act of 1793, when prohibited from doing so by the laws of their own State, and some States had in fact passed such prohibitory laws.

The present fugitive slave law may vary in other respects, and provide other and more rigorous means for carrying its provisions into effect, but these are not made grounds of objection to its constitutionality.

We do not mean to say that this Court will in no case issue a writ of habeas corpus to bring in a party held under color of process from the Courts of the United States, or persons whose services, and the custody of whose persons are claimed under authority derived from the laws of the United States. This is constantly done, in cases of soldiers and sailors, held by military and naval officers, under enlistments complained of, as illegal and void. But it is manifest that this ought to be done only in a clear case, and in cases where it is necessary to the security of personal liberty from illegal restraint.

It seems to us to be the less necessary to call into action the powers of the State Judiciary, in a case like this, because it is quite competent to the Judges of the United States Courts, to bring the petitioner before them by habeas corpus, and ascertain whether he is detained by an illegal and colorable authority of an officer, claiming to act under the laws of the United States. This consideration is, perhaps, of no other importance, than as showing that there is no necessary occasion for drawing the authority of the State and the United States Judiciary into conflict with each other. Such a conflict can hardly arise, although it may often seem impending; because it must generally appear, upon a cool and deliberate examination of all the facts and circumstances, whether a subject to which a law of Congress relates, is or is not within the jurisdiction of the General Government; if it be so, it is conclusive. All judges of all Courts are obliged to act on the same principles, and be governed by the same rules of duty; they are bound alike by oath to support the Constitution of the United States, which declares that the Constitution itself, and all laws made pursuant to it, shall be the supreme law of the land.

On the whole, we consider that the question raised by the petitioner, and discussed in the argument before us, is settled by a course of legal decisions which we are bound to respect, and which we regard as binding and conclusive upon this Court.

Since the argument in Court, this morning, I am reminded by one of the counsel for the petitioner, that the law in question ought to be regarded as unconstitutional, because it makes no provision for a trial by jury. We think that this could not have varied the result. The law of 1850 stands, in this respect, precisely on the same ground with that of 1793, and the same grounds of argument which tend to show the unconstitutionality of the one, apply with equal force to the other; and the same answer must be made to them.

The principle of adhering to judicial precedent, especially that of the Supreme Court of the United States, in a case depending upon the Constitution and laws of the United States, and thus placed within their special and final jurisdiction, is absolutely necessary to the peace, union, and harmonious action of the State and General Governments. The preservation of both, with their full and entire powers, each in its proper sphere, was regarded by the framers of the Constitution, and has ever since been regarded as essential to the peace, order, and prosperity of all the United States.

If this were a new question, now for the first time presented, we should desire to pause and take time for consideration. But though this act, the construction of which is now drawn in question, is recent, and this point, in the form in which it is now stated, is new, yet the solution of the question depends upon reasons and judicial decisions, upon legal principles and a long course of practice, which are familiar, and which have often been the subject of discussion and deliberation.

Considering, therefore, the nature of the subject, the urgent necessity for a speedy and prompt decision, we have not thought it expedient to delay the judgment. I have therefore to state, in behalf of the Court, under the weighty responsibility which rests upon us, and as the unanimous opinion of the Court, that the writ of habeas corpus, prayed for, cannot be granted."*

* To this opinion of the Court, as published in the newspapers, was appended a learned note of considerable length, for which we have not room. Most, if not all, of the cases cited therein, are found in Comm. v. Aves. 7, 18 Pick. 193.

Western Enterprise.—We notice that the Pioneer and Democrat, published at St. Paul, Minnesota, have both determined to issue a daily paper on the first of May. Both of them are capital papers and we wish them abundant success. In June, 1850, we visited St. Paul, and it was then a smalltown some two years old. To require at this time two daily papers shows great and permanent progress in wealth and population, as well as commendable enterprise on the on the part of the publishers.—Chicago Press.

THE BUFFALO EAGLE IRON WORKS CO.
Propose to pay Particular attention to Architectural Iron Work.
WE are prepared to Manufacture IRON FRONTS for Stores and Public Buildings, with the Patent Fire Proof Rolling Shutters.
These Shutters are the same that are now so generally used in New York, and may be put in any Window, Small or Large, and if arranged before erection of the building, may be used without in the least affecting the style of Architecture. They make the only perfect Fire Proof Shutters, and do not appear to the eye when rolled up.
When desired we will furnish the Plan for Store Fronts, (with or without the Patent Shutter,) with estimate for the Cost of the work finished ready for delivery. To our Western friends we think this arrangement will be desirable, for they thus are enabled to know without experiment what the Front is to be, and what it is to cost.
When the Patent Shutters are used we will furnish a man to superintend the erection of the Iron Front and the setting of the Shutter.

PATENT MEDICINES.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

JAUNDICE, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC OR NERVOUS DEBILITY, DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, AND all diseases arising from a Disordered Liver or Stomach, such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, DEFICIENCY OF PERSPIRATION, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and great Depression of Spirits, CAN BE EFFECTUALLY CURED BY DR. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN

BITTERS,
Prepared by Doct. C. M. Jackson,
AT THE GERMAN MEDICINE STORE,
120 Arch-st., Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skillful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids. Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.
[From the Boston Bee.]

The Editor said, Dec. 22d: "Dr. Hoofland's celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these Bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor, a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomachs with safety, under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use."

SCOTT'S WEEKLY.

One of the best literary papers published, said, August 2
"DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, manufactured by Dr Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the faculty, as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitution will find those Bitters advantageous to health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

MORE EVIDENCE.

The Hon. C. D. HINELINE, Mayor of the City of Camden N. J., says:
"HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which the came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and must say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organs, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

"If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver, and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to epidemics generally.—This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit."

"Evidence upon evidence has been received (like the foregoing) from all sections of the Union, the last three years, and the strongest testimony in its favor, is, that there is more of it used in the practice of the regular Physicians of Philadelphia, than all other nostrums combined, a fact that can easily be established, and fully proving that a scientific preparation will meet with their quiet approval when presented even in this form.

That this medicine will cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, no one can doubt, after using it as directed. It acts specifically upon the stomach and liver—it is preferable to calomel in all bilious diseases—the effect is immediate. They can be administered to Females or Infants with safety and reliable benefit, at any time.

LOOK WELL TO THE MARKS OF THE GENUINE.

They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper, and the name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

The Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PROFESSOR WOOD OFFERS FOR SALE A perfect HAIR RESTORATIVE. It will in a short time restore the Hair which has become gray permanently to its original color—bring it out where it is gone, and arrest it where it is falling off—clean the head of the dandruff and itching—removes all cutaneous eruptions, and renders the scalp perfectly healthy by restoring the secretive organs to their original vigor and strength, and thus supply nutriment and coloring matter to it. It does not color the hair, but is, in short, a perfect Hair Invigorator and Tonic—in proof of which he will select from among the mass the following Certificates, viz:—

STATE OF ILLINOIS, CARLYLE, June 27th, 1853.

I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his "Restorative," it has resumed its original color, and, I have no doubt, permanently so. SIDNEY BREESE, Ex-Senator United States.

VINCENNES, Ind., June 15, 1852.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—As you are about to manufacture extensively and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that I have for several years been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use, will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance, and all this without discoloring either the hands which apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair. WILSON KING.

ST. LOUIS, June 29, 1853.

Prof. Wood—Dear Sir:—As you are about to prepare and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, and as you request my opinion of it, I will state that my hair was, a few months since, very gray, and after using two bottles of your Hair Restorative it assumed its original color; and since its application all dandruff has disappeared from my head, and I have been troubled with no disagreeable itching of the scalp. I am satisfied that those who use it will not regret it, as it gives the hair not only its original color, but it gives it the appearance of having been recently oiled. I am prepared, therefore, to recommend its use to all who are desirous of having a beautiful head of hair. H. L. STEWART.

The following certificates speak for themselves, as the gentlemen whose signatures are attached, are known to thousands:—

ST. LOUIS, September 20, 1853.

Dr. O. J. Wood—Sir:—I have used nearly two bottles of your Hair Restorative, and have found its effects very satisfactory. It has entirely destroyed all dandruff from my head and has restored my hair to its original color, which had become quite gray. WM. TRUESDAIL.

St. Louis, September 29, 1853.

Dear Sir: By the advice of a friend of mine, who had been using your Hair Restorative, I was induced to try it, discovering, to my great astonishment, that my friend's hair, which, when I last saw him before, was very gray, had been completely restored to its original color, having as fine glossy appearance as it had w... twenty years ago.

I commenced using the Resto... weeks ago, and am perfectly convinced that it will produce the desired effect, it having restored the color of my hair, more than half of which was white, to precisely the same it was when I was twenty years old, with the same healthy and glossy appearance. I have no hesitation in recommending it to my friends and the public generally, believing that if used according to directions they will not be disappointed. Yours, very respectfully, N. B. HOLMAN.

BLISSFIELD, June 10, 1853.

Prof. WOOD—Dear Sir: Since you request me to give you a statement of the effects of your wonderful Restorative upon me, I cheerfully state, in reply, that I have now used three bottles of it; and although my hair when I commenced its use was a silvery white (my age being sixty-four,) in one month's time it had resumed precisely its original color and so perfect that my friends all thought I looked twenty years younger than usual, and scarcely knew what to make of what they considered a perfect miracle, until I informed them it was but the result of an invention of yours called Hair Restorative. I will also state that I was much troubled with dandruff and itching, particularly when in perspiration; but it only required three or four applications to remove all dandruff and itching; and although my hair had fallen off until I was somewhat bald, I now have as fine a head of hair, both in color, softness and lustre, as I had when but a youth, and quite as abundant. It is proper for me to state that I commenced its use in August last, and used none since January. I have no doubt therefore but what the change is a permanent one; I can therefore recommend it as the most wonderful discovery of the age in which we live. S. M. RANDALL.

Extract of a letter from R. Thorn, Sheriff of La Salle county, Illinois:

OTTAWA, Ill., August 21, 1853.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Yours of June 21st, accompanied by a bottle of your Hair Restorative, was received. I very soon thereafter commenced using it, and it has entirely restored my hair to its natural youthful color.—There is considerable inquiry for the article, &c. Very respectfully yours, R. THORN.

Dr. A. L. Adams' Liver Balsam now sustains the highest reputation of any remedy before the public and has proved to the most skeptical, beyond a shadow of doubt that it is the only reliable medicine ever discovered! Great New England Remedy
FOR Coughs, Colds and all Lung Complaints!!
HUNTER'S CELEBRATED
Pulmonary Balsam or Cough Syrup, PREPARED BY
CURTIS & PERKINS, DRUGGISTS,
BANGOR, MAINE.

Proof Positive—Skeptics Read—Testimony! Testimony!!

HAMPDEN, Feb. 24, 1846.

Messrs. J. Curtis, Jr., & Co.—GENTLEMEN,

I have a word to say to you, in favor of Hunter's Cough Syrup. I have the past year used in my practice, two dozen bottles of it, which I had of you, and every bottle has done good. For eight years past, I have been in the practice of Medicine, and I never have found any thing, so well calculated to operate so favorably in all diseases of the lungs as that is. I have known a hard, distressing cough, cured in forty-eight hours, by using (in broken doses) one bottle of it. One case here in particular, of a man who was thought to have a seated consumption, troubled with a hard distressing cough. I let him have one bottle, and he had two more of your Agent, Mr. Whitmore. After using the 3 bottles, he has become well, and now labors every day. He told me lately, that Hunter's Cough Syrup was the means and only means of his cure. I have given it to infants, to children, to adults, and have the pleasure to inform you that it has done good in every case. I shall do all in my power to recommend it in the cases above named, not wholly for your benefit, but for the benefit of suffering humanity.

BENJAMIN L. POMEROY.

The Pills have effected the most astonishing cures in hundreds of cases of the above complaints, and are an invaluable remedy, in an especial manner, for Dyspepsia.—They are a mild and gentle Cathartic, operating mostly upon the blood, cleansing and purifying the same, and causing the digestive organs to perform their appropriate duties with regularity.

PATENT MEDICINES.

MORTIMORE'S
Rheumatic Compound.

THIS truly celebrated remedial preparation, efficacious alike for each and every description of RHEUMATIC COMPLAINTS, is already too well known and esteemed throughout the United States, to require any lengthy notice of its paramount virtues. It ERADICATES this heretofore incurable and distressing disease from the system, and STANDS UNRIVALLED IN THE PHARMACY OF MEDICINE.

We do not propose to make unqualified statements, or to force a nostrum before the public, but simply to request those most interested, to procure from the Agent in their vicinity, a circular, and not only read the testimony of those who have experienced its invaluable curative powers, but to write to or call upon, the convalescents, so that the statements may emanate from the Fountain-Head—a course which will satisfy the most incredulous, and only by which the reputation of the Remedy is certain of being sustained.—Write also to the proprietors, who will accord every information, and furnish names of undoubted character from every section of the Union, numbering among them some of the most eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Editors and prominent citizens, rendering the reliability and efficacy of the remedy beyond the reach of doubt or distrust.

is a Vegetable Extract, an Internal Remedy, prepared expressly for this ONE DISEASE; and this it will cure in every form, either Inflammatory (Acute) or Chronic, no matter how long standing.

Sold by S. JOHNSON, JR., H. FESS, JR., LAKE & HOPKINS, Milwaukee.

HENRY'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL,
PURELY VEGETABLE IN ITS COMPOSITION.

THIS INVALUABLE CORDIAL, is extracted from Herbs and Roots, which have been found after years of experience, by the most skillful Physicians, to be possessed of qualities most beneficial in the diseases for which it is recommended, and hence whilst it is presented to the public, as an efficacious remedy, it is also known to be of that character on which reliance may be placed as to its safety. In cases of Impotency, Hoemorrhages, Disordered Sterility, Menstruation, or Suppression of the Menses, Flour Albus or Whites or for arising from any cause, such as weakness from sickness where the patient has been confined to bed for some time, for Females after Confinement, Abortion or Miscarriage this Cordial cannot be excelled in its salutary effects; or in loss of Muscular Energy, Irritability, Physical Prostration Seminal Weakness, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Sluggishness, Decay of the Procreative Functions, Nervousness, &c., where a TONIC Medicine is required, it will be found equal, if not superior to any Compound ever used.

TO FEMALES.

Henry's Invigorating Cordial is one of the most invaluable Medicines in the many Complaints to which Females are subject. It assists nature to brace the whole system, check excesses, and creates renewed health and happiness. Less suffering, disease and unhappiness among Ladies would exist, were they generally to adopt the use of this Cordial. Ladies who are debilitated by those obstructions which females are liable to, are restored by the use of a bottle or two, to bloom and to vigor.

YOUNG MEN.

That solitary practice, so fatal to the existence of man, and it is the young who are most apt to become its victims from an ignorance of the danger to which they subject themselves, causes

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

Weakness of the System, and Premature Decay. Many of you may now be suffering, misled as to the cause or source of disease. To those, then, who by excess have brought on themselves Premature Impotency, Involuntary Seminal Emissions, Weakness and Shrivelling of the Genital Organs Nervous Affection, or any other consequences of unrestrained indulgence of the sensual passions, occasioning the necessity of renouncing the felicities of lessening both mental and bodily capacity. Hold! Henry's Invigorating Cordial, a Medicine that is purely Vegetable, will aid nature to restore those important functions to a healthy state, and will prove of service to you. It possesses rare virtues, is a general remover of disease, and strengthener of the system.

AS A TONIC MEDICINE,

it is unsurpassed. We do not place this cordial on a footing with quack medicines, and, as is customary, append a long list of Recommendations, Certificates, &c., beginning with "Hear what the Preacher says," and such like; it is not necessary, for "Henry's Invigorating Cordial," only needs a trial to prove that it will accomplish all we say.

THE GENUINE "HENRY'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL," is put up in 8 oz Pannel Bottles, and is easily recognized by the Manufacturer's signature on the label of each Bottle, (to counterfeit which is forgery,) as well as his private Seal on the cork of each Bottle.

☞ Sold for $2 per Bottle; Six for $8; $16 per dozen. Prepared only by S. E. COHEN, No. 3 Franklin Row, Vine Street, below Eighth, Philadelphia, Pa., TO WHOM ALL ORDERS MUST BE ADDRESSED. For Sale by all respectable Druggists and Merchants throughout the country. oct24-1yd&w.

PROSPECTUS OF Thos. H. Benton's Great Work.

THIRTY YEAR'S VIEW, of the workings of the American Government. Published by D. APPLETON & Co., New York, and sold exclusively by subscription.

During the last thirty years there has been no important public measure in which this active and distinguished statesman has not taken an able and decisive part, and been familiar with the influences, whether secret or public, which have urged forward or opposed each. He is therefore well qualified to write the history of this period.

This work will be completed in two volumes, the first of which will be published early in the year 1854, and will be brought down to the close of the administration of Gen. Jackson, and will thus form a complete work by itself, containing about 700 double column, royal 8 vo. pages, and a superbly engraved portrait of Senator Benton.

Price $2,50, payable on delivery of the book.

The book of subscription, together with specimen sheets, can be found at the law office of Messrs. TUCKER & GARVEY; and the Agent will soon give an opportunity to persons desirous of subscribing to do so at their residences and places of business throughout the city and county. jan12

PATENT MEDICINES.

DOCTOR D'S
Old Lock Hospital.
NO CURE NO PAY.
No. 112 Wells Street, Chicago.
The Only Certain Remedy.

FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES, at 112 Wells Street. By the strict system established at the LOCK HOSPITAL, 112 Wells Street, all patients are secure of absolute privacy. The advantages of this system are too well known to need any comment. All who have the need of advice or attention from Dr. D. may confide in him with a full assurance of secrecy, and certain hope of recovery. Some of the most learned and famous men of the country have been under his charge—men of genious, intellect and power—and in no instance has the strictness of privacy been violated.

Invalids must be cautioned against the illiterate and unlearned in science, who do so much injury by quackery and imposition. The Vegetable Medicines of Dr. D. are now fully established, as the only certain remedy for venerial complaints, and those who are afflicted with such complaints, are seriously warned not to tamper with them by trusting those who practice the abuse of mercury and balsam.

Dr. D. freely invites all troubled with disorders to call upon him. His charges are regulated by the circumstances of the case. No charge will be made where a cure is not effected. Dr. D. is a regular physician, having devoted many years to the exclusive study of these diseases, comprising, in their various shades, gonorhœa, syphilis, impotency, all diseases of the bones, &c. Nothing is needed but to call upon him, to make every thing satisfactory in a moment. Such is the absolute efficacy of the method of cure that no question can possibly exist about it, when once an individual becomes acquainted with the wholesome and certain process. It is but for a man to say he is afflicted, and see himself cured.

The greatest point for the consideration of every body is to avoid all communication with persons unqualified to give them relief. Serious and dangerous consequences ensue, more than the world is aware of, from the treatment of quacks and impostors.

The only certain way is to visit the Lock Hospital, or Dr. D's office, at No. 150 Wells street, and at once place yourself under his care.

☞ Office will be kept open from 9 A. M. until 9 o'clock at night.

All letters (post paid) will receive prompt attention.—Any person wishing a private room until cured can have it by applying to Dr. D. aug5-d1yr

AFFLICTED READ
PHILADELPHIA
MEDICAL HOUSE.

Established 18 years ago, by Dr. Kinkelin, N. W. corner of Third and Union Streets, between Spruce and Pine Streets, Philadelphia.

EIGHTEEN YEARS of extensive and uninterrupted practice spent in this city, have rendered Dr. K. the most expert and successful practitioner, far and near, in the treatment of all diseases of a private nature. Persons afflicted with ulcers upon the body, throat or legs, pains in the head or bones, mercurial rheumatism, strictures, gravel, disease arising from youthful excesses or impurities of the blood, whereby the constitution has become enfeebled, are all treated with success.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. K., may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Young men who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in—a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school; the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and destroy both mind and body, should apply immediately. Weakness and constitutional debility, loss of muscular energy, physical lassitude and general prostration, irritable and all nervous affections, indigestion, sluggishness of the liver, and every disease in any way connected with the disorder of the procreative functions cured, and full vigor restored.

DR. HUNTER'S MEDICAL MANUAL AND HAND BOOK FOR THE AFFLICTED—Containing an outline of the origin, progress, treatment and cure of every form of disease, contracted by promiscuous sexual intercourse, by self-abuse, or by sexual excess, with advice for their prevention, written in a familliar style avoiding all medical technicalities, and everything that would offend the ear of decency, from the result of some twenty years successful practice, exclusively devoted to the cure of diseases of a delicate or private nature.

To which is added, receipts for the cure of the above disease, and a treatise on the causes, symptoms and cure of the Fever and Ague, for twenty-five cents a copy; six copies one dollar; will be forwarded to any part of the United States, by mail, free of postage. Address, postage paid, Cosden & Co., Publishers, or "box 196, Post Office, Philadelphia.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published on the class of diseases of which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and 'with too little breath to puff,' and 'too little presumption to impose,' he has offered to the world at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruits of some twenty years most successful practice."—HERALD.

"No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this invaluable work. It would save years of pain, mortification and sorrow to the youth under their charge."—PEOPLE'S ADVOCATE.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, in writing of "Hunter's Medical Manual," says: "Thousands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and the influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and their posterity. The constitutions of thousands who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or the cure. Any thing that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide-spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generations. Intemperance, (or the use of intoxicating drinks,) though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not a greater scourge to the human race.—Accept my thanks on behalf of the afflicted, and, believe me, your co-worker in the good work you are so actively engaged in."

One copy will be forwarded (securely enveloped and postage paid,) on receipt of 25 cents, or six copies for $1. Address, COSDEN & CO., Publishers, Box 196, Philadelphia. Booksellers, Canvassers and Book Agents, supplied on the most reasonable terms. my21-1y

FireKing Safe, again Triumphant.

$1,000 will be paid, if reliable evidence is shown where they ever failed to protect valuables from Fire, where as other makers' Safes have proved worthless in various accidental and experimental tests, some of which occurred recently.

Read the following from Messrs. A. McClure & Co., wholesale and extensive dealers in Drugs, Medicines, &c.

ALBANY, July. 27, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 22d day of July, 1852, our entire Stock, composed of Turpentine, Alcohol, Oil, Patent Medicines, &c., was consumed by fire; so rapid and severe was the fire that we were unable to close one safe until Mr. Pohlman subsequently entered at the peril of his life and closed the doors.

After forcing the safe open after all this exposure and fire, which made us so careful for the safety of its contents, its valuables were found uninjured.

We have so much confidence in the security of the Fire King, that we shall have it immediately replaced.

A. McCLURE & CO.

ALBANY, Dec. 19, 1852.

This is to certify, that on the 7th day of May, 1851, I purchased of J. McB. Davidson, No. 7, single flange Safe, and that the same was subjected to a severe test on the 18th of December, 1851. After the fire was extinguished, its contents (books and papers,) were examined, and found to be perfectly preserved—not a leaf of any books being scorched. F. J. CLAASSEN,
Importer of Wines, Cigars, &c., Broadway, Albany.

After an examination of F. J. Claassen's Safe and papers, we are convinced of the superiorty of Davidson's Safes over all others.

This is to certify that on the 25th of September last we purchased of H. D. Rice, Esq., one of Mr. J. McB. Davidson's Fire Kings (No 4 Single Flange); that on the 14th of November past it was subjected to a very severe test in the burning of our warehouse, in which was stored a large quantity of whisky and other combustible materials.
